Subject: - Clarification regarding payment of claims under ABVKY in cases where employers show "0" contribution for employees for some time after termination of their service and exits them from system at a later stage -Reg.

Sir,

In the recent meeting of Employees' State Insurance Corporation on 07.12.2020 an Hon'ble Member raised the issue that even after actually terminating an employee, the employer continues to file the contribution with "0" number of working days and "0" wages in his respect due to which the concerned employee is not being considered eligible for relief under Atal Beemit Vyakti Kalyan Yojana (ABVKY).

Instances have also been reported in which the employers have shown "0" contribution for employees for some time after termination of job but exited them from system at a later stage i.e. the employee had indeed become unemployed in the month from where filing of "0" contribution was started but the employer actually exited him from the system at later stage, in some cases even after 4-6 months.

The issue has been examined and it has been decided that in cases where the employer has shown "0" contribution in respect of an employee for some time before exiting him from the system the claim of relief under ABVKY, if filed, for the months for which "0" contribution has been filed shall also be allowed after due verification. However, it should be ensured that only those beneficiaries who have been exited from the rolls of the employer, even at later date, are considered for payments under ABVKY subject to fulfillment of other eligibility conditions.

Further it is requested to depute Branch Managers/ SSOs to advise the employers under your respective jurisdiction to exit those employees whose services have been terminated by them from their rolls/ system immediately so that the payment of relief under ABVKY be made to such eligible claimants.

This issues with approval of Director General.

Yours Faithfully
